What to Do Before an Earthquake in the Workplace?

Earthquakes strike suddenly, violently and without warning. Identifying potential hazards ahead of time and advance planning can reduce the dangers of serious injury or loss of life from an earthquake. The 10 tips bellow will help reduce the impact of earthquakes.

10 Ways to prepare for an earthquake In the work place:

1. Fasten shelves and file cabinets securely to the studs of the walls.
2. Place large or heavy objects on lower shelves.
3. Hang heavy items such as pictures and mirrors away from desks and anywhere people congregate.
4. Brace overhead light fixtures.
5. Move desks and seating areas away from windows.
6. Make sure the water heater is strapped securely to walls.
7. Secure an off site location to store original or duplicate copies of accounting records, legal documents, your employees emergency contact lists, and other essential records.
8. Teach all employees how and when to turn off gas, electricity, and water (make sure to have a wrench at these locations) and how to properly use a fire extinguisher — A-B-C type.
9. Discuss emergency escape plans and procedures with all employees and post emergency route maps in designated areas.
10. Prepare an Emergency Disaster Kit for the office.

The work place Emergency Disaster kit should include:

- Water - 1 gallon per person per day (a week’s supply of water and food is preferable)
- Non perishable food
- Flashlights and portable battery-operated radios with a supply of extra batteries.
- First aid kit and manual Emergency survival blankets
- Household bleach-unscented
- Hand sanitizer

2007 PIERsafe Goals

This year PIERsafe remains focused on their 2006 goals for emergency disaster and preparedness of :

- Ongoing Education & Training
- Public & Visitor Awareness
- Collaboration with City, State & Federal Agencies
- Role Model Status as a Prepared Community and as a City Asset

In addition to the continuing the goals of 2006, the group will bring into its practices the four basic principles for emergency management as defined by the National Incident Management System (NIMS):

- Mitigation
- Preparedness
- Response
- Recovery

The goals set for 2007 will involve the development of an all-encompassing master plan for the emergency preparedness and recovery for the Wharf.

Funding of such an endeavor is monumental; therefore, the District will consult with their grant development and funding company to secure applicable grants and monies from government agencies.

PIERsafe has already begun working with the San Francisco Office of Emergency Management to assure that the Wharf has access to the most up-to-date tools, information and resources in preparation for positive responses in the face of adversity at the Wharf.

Upcoming NERT Training:

Safety Tips

There are a few things that can be done in times of grave emergencies. Your mobile phone can actually be a life saver or an emergency tool for survival. Check out the things that you can do with it:

First: The emergency number worldwide for mobile is 112. If you find yourself out of the coverage of your mobile network and there is an emergency, dial 112 and the mobile will search any existing network to establish the emergency number for you, and interestingly this number (112) can be dialed even if the keypad is locked.

Second: Have you locked your keys in the car? Does your car have remote keyless entry? This may come in handy someday. If you lock your keys in the car and the spare keys are at home, call someone at home on their cell phone from your cell phone. Hold your cell phone about a foot from your car door and have the person at your home press the unlock button, holding it near the mobile phone on their end. You car will unlock. Distance is no object. You could be hundreds of miles away, and if you can reach someone who has the other “remote” for your car, you can unlock the doors (or the trunk).

Third: Hidden Battery Power - Imagine your cell battery is very low. To activate, press the keys *3370#. Your cell will restart with this reserve and the instrument will show a 50% increase in battery. This reserve will get charged when you charge your cell next time.

Fourth: How to disable a STOLEN mobile phone. To check your mobile phone's serial number, key in the following digits on your phone: * # 0 6 # A 15-digit code will appear on the screen. This number is unique to your handset. Write it down and keep it somewhere safe. When your phone is stolen, you can phone your service provider and give them this code. They will then be able to block your handset so even if the thief changes the SIM card, your phone will be totally useless.

Fifth: Cell phone companies are charging us $1.00 to $1.75 or more for 411 information calls when they don't have to. When you need to use the 411 information option, simply dial: (800) FREE 411, or (800) 373-3411 for free. Program this number into your cell phone now.
